Ohio's new law requires schools to screen elementary students for dyslexia. Dyslexia is described as a learning disability marked by poor spelling and decoding abilities (as defined by the International Dyslexia Association). Those with dyslexia can experience difficulties reading and comprehending written text. Click here to read facts about dyslexia.

Title I groups are in full swing and going well. K-1 students are working in the Countdown/Blast! programs and 2nd grade students are using Blast! These programs focus on Phonological Awareness and Phonics. Students are practicing skills like rhyming, segmenting, and blending sounds. By participating in these programs, students' confidence and accuracy will increase. As a result, the ability to comprehend more complex text will improve.

Happy Holidays from your Title I Teachers!
